Out with the old!!!

MTS is an employee owned operator training and consulting company based in Vernon B.C., We are putting Shawn (founder) out to pasture and looking for an energetic seasoned water/wastewater professional to join our team as a trainer / consultant.

Are you an energetic, experienced and resourceful operator?

Know a little something about backflow prevention?

Are you interested sharing your experience in a classroom / field setting?

MTS is a leading water and waste water operator training and consulting group, we work primarily in BC and Alberta and have done contract work throughout Canada. MTS' home base is in our purpose built, world class interactive training facility in Vernon BC.

Along with training in all aspects of Backflow Prevention, MTS is Western Canada's leading Cross Connection Control Consultants, we provide backflow prevention program development, implementation, facility CCC risk assessments, digital administration/assessment/mobile test report submission platforms and program management services.

We require a Level 2 certified water/wastewater operator with several years experience, previous experience as an instructor is an asset though not a deal breaker for the right person. Alternatively, we will consider a red seal plumber.

The successful candidate must be energetic, motivated, confident with public speaking and have a great sense of humor.

MTS offers wages Commensurate with experience and fit, Comprehensive benefits package and, the selected candidate may have the opportunity to buy / earn shares in the company, work involves some travel.
